A COUNTRY CEMETERY.

Once upon a time the sound of 'graveyard' was ghoulish and caused a queasy feeling of creeping chills and quaking flesh. Most people avoided passing cemeteries at night, fearing either ghostly visitations or floating shadows. Now all is changed. Vital Statistics are on the boards and many are anxious, for legal or other reasons, to have authoritative proof of birth and death records, such as tombstone inscriptions supply. This is the practical argument for the activity of certain persons.

Another and more personal reason for this graveyard activity is the enjoyment of wide open spaces and the stimulus of invigorating air while one is accomplishing the work. Even winters are sometimes mild enough to work out on many days. 1932-1933 was such a one. There are those who enjoy wandering among the stones to read epitaphs and other queer statements thereon. There was the wife who had her stone placed at the time of that of her deceased husband stating that she "was not dead but sleeping." After twenty years she was still at it. Another husband's stone had a hand pointing up to "I am at rest". At the same time the hand on the wife's tomb pointed to "So am I." She died much later, so life must have been good. In any cemetery one who is interested may find many such amusing tombstones, speaking more truthfully, perhaps, than ever was the intention.

Seriously, the labor of this task of recording cemetery records is one of deepest enjoyment if you appreciate the open spaces. Aside from the fresh, invigorating air there is the soul-satisfying of the esthetic self, for men have ever selected the most beautiful spots in their communities for the repose of their dead, usually on a pleasant rise of ground with trees to shade them in their long sleep.

There will always remain with me a delightful memory of a day in a rural cemetery. On a golden October morning, taking a lunch and driving an hour along a shady country road, preparation was made for a period of work. This cemetery was situated on a low hill rising gently from the surrounding terrain. It was an ideal setting. The landscape spread out like an entrancing panorama. The maples and oaks were carrying their gorgeous autumn colors. Off to the west was a herd of Holstein cattle, their black and white made prominent by contrast with verdant pastures and distant trees, to the north were flocks of fine wool sheep, the bell of the leader tinkling on the passing breeze, the south faced the little-used avenue leading to this quiet place, branching from the State highway which meandered on to the County seat. From the east the view was unobscured, with the azure sky reaching the horizon. Trees along the side of the lane seemed a perfect path for Aurora to begin her triumphal entry into the new day.

The sun was warm, the bees droned their flights away and the enjoyment of the spirit made me lag in my selected work, so before it was finished the cows had taken their way to the barn, the sheep had settled for the night, shadows had deepened and left "the world to darkness and to me."

Harriet Cole Bowen.

Note. Mrs. Bowen knows where-of she writes for she is one of our most zealous collectors of cemetery records. Her volume of records of the cemeteries in the west half of Lenawee County, Michigan, done for the D.A.R., is in Burton Library and she is busy typing the records for the eastern half of the county. On another page will be found the records of a small New York state cemetery where some of her ancestors are buried. Editor.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

At the September meeting of the Society the annual reports of the various officers and committees were read and the officers for the new year were installed. An amendment to the Constitution was adopted making the Chairman of each standing committee a member of the Board of Directors.

At the same meeting the Society honored itself by conferring honorary membership upon two of its members, the only such memberships it has ever given. Miss Grace E. Krum, chief of staff of Burton Library, has been a constant friend and helper of the Society, which has its Headquarters in the Library. Mr. H.F. Sturtevant dreamed a dream of a magazine for the Society was one of its founders and more than any one else has made possible the magazine we now have. We have offered them a slight recognition of what they have done for the Society.

Mr. Edwin P. Hall, our first President, has moved to Indianapolis. We shall miss him, but wish him good luck in his new home.

Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Merrill recently attended the Silver Wedding Anniversary reception of Mrs. Merrill's sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Frederic C. Altman of Ferndale, Michigan. Mr. Altman, the son of Sterling and Margaret (Selle) Altman, was born at Boon Wexford Co. Michigan March 14, 1893. Mrs. Agnes Marie (Blom) Altman was born near Waldenburg, Macomb Co., Michigan, April 26, 1894 the daughter of William and Henrietta (Klockow) Blohm. They were married in Detroit, September 16, 1915. The history of the couple's courtship and twenty-five years of wedded life was read by Mr. Merrill and was enthusiastically enjoyed by every one. Another Society member Mrs. John W. Griffin and Mr. Griffin were also there.

We were very pleased to have with us at the last meeting one of our far-away members Dr. Sanford A. Moss, of Lynn, Mass. We enjoyed his little talk and wish to thank him for his interest and assistance and hope he comes again.

Mr. Lyons Mills Howland attended the recent convention of the Children of the American Revolution in Columbus, Georgia. He was the first national president of the organization, chosen in 1938, and has since been made honorary president.

The foreword in our June issue, "YEW POSTOFFICE" written by Mrs. Emmet Lamb (Sabra Palmer) was largely quoted by Mr. George W. Stark in a number of his "We Old Timers" column in the Detroit News. It was of considerable genealogical interest, and Mrs. Lamb has received a number of inquiries about its data.

On Sept. 20 Mr. Roy E. McFee was the speaker at a meeting of the Saginaw D.A.R. His subject "What Ancestors Mean to Us". Mr. McFee is doing his share in arousing interest in genealogy by these talks.

Mrs. Florence S. Whelan of Perumseh, Michigan has given us a list of some thirty-five to forty typed manuscripts, all copies of original material, which she and her daughter, Miss Marion E. Whelan, have prepared. These are from one page to 135 pages in length, one copy of each going to Burton Library. There are Bible records, copies of old diaries, family histories, church records, etc. Thanks to you, Mrs. Whelan, for a record of such a lot of such worthwhile work.

Our Mrs. Wm. F. Carter of Indianapolis has recently been elected 2nd Vice-President and Historian of the Knapp Family Association. Congratulations.

Have you contributed a Bible or other family record yet?

VITAL RECORDS FROM "THE DETROIT GAZETTE" 1817-1830

Collected by Beulah Puffer Kresge

Oct. 4 1822. In this city on the 1st inst. Mrs. Alice Ann Gwynne, the wife of Maj. David Gwynne, aged 24 years --- she sickened and died during the absence of her beloved husband --- Maj. Gwynne was absent on official business at Sagana, where he was taken ill, which prevented his return. On Wednesday last the remains of Mrs. G. were followed by a numerous concourse of mourning friends to the Protestant Church, and after hearing an appropriate sermon by the Rev. Mr. Moore, they laid the deceased in her "narrow house" in the burying ground of that church.

Oct. 11 1822. (Friday) In this city, on Tuesday evening last Mrs. Harriet Euler, wife of Mr. Jacob Euler --- an amiable and excellent woman.

Oct. 11 1822. On Monday last an infant daughter of Mr. Abraham Wendell.

From the National Intelligencer of Sept. 21. Yesterday afternoon in Georgetown after an illness of ten or fifteen days Mrs. Macomb --- an excellent and much respected wife of Gen. Alexander Macomb ---

Nov. 22 1822. The last mail brought to us the melancholy intelligence of the death of our friend James B. Witherell, on board the U.S. sloop Peacock while on her return from Havana to Norfolk. He was the son of Judge Witherell, of the Supreme Court of this territory. And a young man universally esteemed among his acquaintances here. There are few officers in the navy who are better qualified than he was to shed a lustre on that arduous service. Our readers will recollect that last week we published a letter from him dated a few days before his death. Full of hope, of patriotism and of enterprise. He was then engaged in chastising the pirates of the West-Indies and it is to the peculiar hardships of that service that his death may probably be attributed.

Nov. 22 1822. At Cincinnati on the 6th Oct. Mr. John Hill of the firm of Wm. Hill & brothers Pittsburgh formerly Contractor for this post.

Nov. 29. 1822. (Friday) In this city, on Tuesday evening last, Louisa, daughter of Capt. Benjamin Woodworth.

Dec. 20 1822. At St. Louis on the 28th of October last, Mr. Louis Devotion, formerly a merchant of this city.

FROM A CIVIL WAR ACCOUNT BOOK.
Contributed by Anna B. Kirby.

Note. Through Mrs. George W. Corliss, a member of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, Mrs. Anna B. Kirby of Marcellus, Michigan has given to the Society two account books kept by her grandfather, Rev. John Kirby. One is a book of Marriage records, the other contains some township records for the year 1865, which seem to be of peculiar interest at this time. The records are in two small books (6x3), with well-worn pasteboard covers, written in both ink and pencil. Rev. Kirby was pastor of the Baptist Church of Wayne and Volinia Twp., Cass Co., Michigan, in the 1860's 1870's and 1880's according to the records, and also for part of that time the clerk of Volinia Twp. The marriage records will be published later. The books will be given to Burton Library.

The first part of the book of township accounts is a record of aid paid to families of enlisted men. The first nine pages contain a list of 169 accounts, which are recorded later under the family record, for example, "No. 1 Lewellen 8.00", in this case "John" is written above. But on turning to the first account, we find the name "Frank" instead of "John". The account reads as follows

Enlisted Feb 20th Co B 10th Cav
Frank Lewellen Enlisted
Eveline Lewellen and 1 child
April 13th No 1 for $8 00
May 20th No 32 for 5 00
June 20th No 60 for 8 00
July 20th No 84 for 8 00
Aug. 26th No 99 8 00
Sept. 20th No 114 8 00
Oct. 20th No 124 8 00
Nov. 20th No 133 8 00
Discharged 61 00 (in pencil)

The other accounts are in similar form, but we shall print only such parts as have genealogical value. The Editor.

And here in this place of sacrifice, in this vale of humiliation, in this valley of the shadow of Death, out of which the Life of America rose regenerate and free, let us believe with an abiding faith, that to them Union will seem as dear and Liberty as sweet and progress as glorious as they were to our fathers and are to you and me, and that the institutions which have made us happy, preserved by the virtue of our children, shall bless the remotest generation of the time to come.

Henry Armitt Brown. On Connerative Arch at Valley Forge, erected by Act of Congress. 1910.

Henry Armitt Brown b. 1844 d. 1879 - Yale 1865. gave one of the principal addresses at Valley Forge Centennial 1878.

2. Eliza Jane 5 Penfold, m. Daniel Riker

3. Ann Maria 5 Penfold

C. Nicholas Bogart 4 Penfold, of New York City, living when Riker's History of Harlem was written.

F5 V. Cornelia Ann 5 Bogart (No. 2), b. May 11, 1770, d. Feb. 21, 1819, interred at New Rochelle. (The writer has Cornelia Ann's silver shoe buckles and hand embroidered home-spun linen pillow cases) m. 25 Frederick Schureman of New Rochelle (of whom later).

F4 Capt. Nicholas Hendrick Bogart was a mariner. In 1757 he was a member of the Reformed Dutch Church, N.Y., and in 1787 his wife Catharine was listed as a member. In 1774 at New York City an election was held and 60 men chosen as a "Committee of Observation". Isaac Low was Chairman and several of the 60 men were relatives of Samuel Tompkins Schureman. May 1, 1775, a second "Committee of 100" was elected for the same purpose. This time appeared more of these kinsmen: Victor Bicker, Robert Ray, Comfort Sands, Peter van Schaak and Nicholas Bogart. In 1776 Nicholas Bogart was on the payroll of Capt. Benjamin Coe's Third Company of Militia in Col. Josiah Smith's Regiment in Queen's Co., Long I., N. Y. Lieut. John Sands acting. (More of John Sands later.) Sergeant William Penfold and Edmund Penfold were members of the Company. In 1790, when the first U. S. Census was taken, the family of Nicholas H. Bogart was living in New Rochelle and consisted of "2 free white males of 16 years and over, including heads of families, 2 free white males of 16 years and under, 3 white females including heads of families and 2 slaves." At the 1791 New Rochelle Town Meeting "Capt. Nicholas Bogart" was chosen Highway Master and reappointed in 1792 and 1793. Before 1794 Nicholas H. Bogart bought 40 acres in New Rochelle adjacent to the water side and landing. This he sold in 1794. In 1794 Nicholas H. Bogart purchased another farm 4 miles back from the shore in New Rochelle, bounded on one side by the Mill River, now called Hutchinson's River. In 1799, he deeded this to his son-in-law Richard Penfold. F3 Catharine (Broadhurst) Bogart did not join in the first 1794 deed, so must have died prior to that time. (The writer treasures a linen side-board cover of these great, great grandparents and has been privileged to read a letter written by Capt. Nicholas H. Bogart to his son-in-law 25 Frederick Schureman in which he spoke of his daughter Cornelia Ann. It was a curiosity.) The will of Nicholas H. Bogart of Westchester Co., N.Y. was dated Dec. 24, 1796. He devised to his daughter Catharine, wife of Richard Penfold the house and land on which they then lived, the residue of the estate to be sold. He mentioned his daughter "Nancy", wife of Frederick Schureman ("Nancy" was a nickname for the Dutch Annatje, or Ann). The executors were son-in-law Frederick Schureman and friend Cornelius J5 Bogart (John 4 - or Johannes, who married Abigail Quick - John 3, Nicholas 2, Jan Louwe 1) Witnesses: Abigail 6 Bogart, (dau. of John 4 and Abigail (Quick) Bogart), b. May 20, 1774, m. June 4, 1801, Robert Jenkins Thursty, she d. May 8, 1841), Philip Tabele, Franey Leonard. Probated Jan. 14, 1804.

25 Frederick Schureman (Jeremiah 4, Jacob 3, Frederick 2, Harmen 1) b. Apr. 17,

1768, d. Oct. 23, 1836, m. about 1794, R5 Cornelia Ann Bogart (Nicholas 4, Hendrick 3, Nicholas (Claas) 2, Jan Louwe 1), b. May 11, 1770, d. Feb. 21, 1819. They dwelt at New Rochelle, N.Y. Frederick Schureman was a man of high morals and fine intellect. A prized possession of the writer is an arithmetic of his creation. It is written with a quill pen upon parchment, is bound with homespun linen and the cover is inscribed "Frederick Schureman has took 1841". He was fenceviewer and damage prizer at New Rochelle 1799-1815, Assessor 1811-1815, School Inspector 1813, Overseer of Poor 1816-1818, Commissioner of Roads 1814.

Children of Z5 Frederick and R5 Cornelia Ann Bogart Schureman

- 26 1. John Bogart 6 Schureman, b. Apr. 26, 1795 at New Rochelle, N.Y. d. Mar. 25, 1839 at Rome, Michigan, interred there. M. Eliza Jane Sands, b. Dec. 4, 1806 probably at Mamaroneck, N.Y. d. Nov. 19, 1841 at Rome, Mich. interred beside her husband. He m. 2nd Judith Juliette Berry (dau. of Judge Berry), b. Feb. 18, 1816, d. Apr. 24, 1835, interred in Oakwood Cemetery, Adrian, Mich. John Bogart and Eliza Jane (Sands) Schureman removed to Michigan in 1832. (Of whom later.)
  11. Cornelia Ann 6 Schureman, b. Nov. 22, 1796 probably at New Rochelle. A childhood accident made her a lifelong cripple, and a bone of her sister Magdalene Schureman Hunt, a 325 W. 20th Street, N. Y. she d. unmarried June 28, 1834.
  111. Magdalene 6 Schureman, b. Nov. 30, 1794 at New Rochelle, d. at her home 325 W. 20th St., N. Y. City where the family resided over 5 years Jan. 25, 1891, m. Apr. 12, 1826 William Soulice Hunt, b. Sept. 1, 1800, d. May 18, 1874 at their home in New York. William S. Hunt was a well known architect and builder and designed and erected in 1835 the old 13th St. M. E. Church of which he and his family were active members during their lives. It was said of him that he was a "sincere Christian, a far seeing sagacious business man, an active church worker, his advice and help were of the greatest value to the church in its early days and until his death". Magdalene Schureman Hunt survived her husband 24 years. The Rev. J. M. King, D.D. her pastor said of her, "She has an historic and noble heredity which her own character honored. "Of Huguenot blood, one of her ancestors was killed in the religious persecutions in Paris which followed in the train of the repeal of the Edict of Nantes when multitudes of Huguenots fled to Germany, England, and America carrying with them wherever they went the love of civil and religious liberty, which they were always ready to defend with their lives. Mrs. Hunt was a patriot always, and when the war for the preservation of the Union and for the liberation of the slaves was being waged, her heart and all the practical energies she could put forth were enlisted". They were both interred in First M. E. Church yard in New Rochelle and impressive monuments mark their graves.

 "Albert D. Hubbard, professor of music and at one time editor of the Etude", died of apoplexy yesterday afternoon at his home 2028 Vine Street. He was born in New York forty-nine years ago but had lived here since 1899.
 "He organized many choirs and wrote choral music. He directed the Choral Society of the Darty Methodist Church. The members of this society will attend his funeral, which takes place tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock from his late residence. Mr. Hubbard was unmarried. He leaves a sister, Mrs. Amy Gibb, of Newark, N.J. She was summoned to her brother's bedside, but did not arrive before his death. She will accompany his body to New York, where it will be interred in Woodlawn Cemetery." About 1885, Albert Hubbard was a concert pianist, with a studio in Steinway Hall, N. Y. City.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS TO GENEALOGICAL WORKS.

"BAIRD AND BEARD FAMILIES" by Fermin Baird Catchings, 1918. p. 121. This states that Elizabeth Jane Harrison, dau. of Nancy Baird and Craven Harrison married HARRISON Beal. It should read JOSEPH TURNER Beal. See Centennial History of Arkansas, 1922 Vol. 11, p. 1110, also Arkansas and its People 1930 Vol. IV, p. 410.

Correction made by Edward C. Beal

"HISTORY OF ELDER JOHN STRONG OF NORTHAMPTON MASSACHUSETTS" by Benjamin W. Dwight, 1871 Vol. 11 p. 1133. Line 12 reads "Mary Cook dau. of Noah Cook of Hartford and SARAH NASH" Line 15 reads "Noah Cook m. Joanna Denslow". The last statement is incorrect. PROOF Early Conn. Probate Records Manwaring, vol. 2, p. 374. Will of Aaron Cooke, son of Noah names mother SARAH. Vol. 1 p. 191 line 28 under Denslow, also p. 192 court record. Aaron (1) Cooke father of Noah m. 2nd abt. 1649 Joanna Denslow, dau. of Nicholas (1) Denslow and 2nd wife Elizabeth

On George Scott's tax list.

1786 Reverend John Gerard had 1 pole tax 6 houses 13 cattle
David Gerard 1 pole tax 5 houses 8 cattle
William Gerard 1 pole tax 2 houses 1 cattle

Information given by Mrs. Eleanor Gerard Russell.

Miss Helen Ellis, of the Burton Library staff, suggests that anyone who has read Rachel Field's "All This, and Heaven Too" might be interested in looking over a book on the Burton shelves. "DAVID DUDLEY FIELD: HIS ANCESTORS AND DESCENDANTS" by Emilia H. Field tells the story of all the Fields mentioned in Miss Field's novel. There is a good photo of "Uncle Henry" in middle age, a "smudge" in a group is supposed to be "Henriette", and that is a disappointment.
